STATE DRY AGENCY NO LONGER NEEDED

Opponents of Prohibition Machinery Open Battle Battle to Abolish It

GILPIN STATES CASE

Animated Debate in the House of Delegates Saturday—Gilpin Disclaims Intent to Criticise

Richmond, Jan. 26.—In a debate characterized by frequent tilts between proponents and opponents of the Gilpin bill, which has for its aim the abolition of the State Department of Prohibition, factions representing the department and those who would abolish the office clashed in the opening skirmish of what promises to be a hotly contested fight in the hall of the House of Delegates Saturday afternoon. The hearing was before the House Committee on Moral and Social Welfare, and was open to the public.

At the conclusion of the hearing a subcommittee of three, composed of Delegates Stephenson, McNutt and Garber, was appointed to consider all the evidence and argument and make its recommendation to the full committee tonight at 8 o'clock.

An audience which taxed every available seat when the session got under way at noon was augmented by scores of others, who occupied every foot of standing room, both in the rear of the hall and in the gallery, when the hearing was resumed at 3 o'clock, following a recess of an hour.

Prohibition Commissioner J. Sidney Peters, Rev. David P. Hepburn, D. D., superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Virginia; Rev. Geo. W. McDaniel, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist Church; Senator G. Walter Mapp, author of the Mapp prohibition law; Lewis H. Machen, counsel for the State Department of Prohibition, and others appeared in behalf of retention of the department.

Incidentally be paid a compliment—to Lewis H. Machen, former State Senator from Alexandria, now attached to the Federal department having charge of enforcement. Machen served as assistant to Dr. Peters for a year or more before joining the federal forces recently. Gilpin was sure that the experience gained by the former Alexandria man under Commissioner Peters would be of great assistance to him in his new position. Further he thought Machen one of the best officials the State had ever had.

They were opposed by Delegate Kenneth G. Gilpin, of Clarke, who framed the bill calling for abolition of the department; Lindsey R. Gordon, Jr., of Louisa; E. P. Buford, of Brunswick, Thomas Lomax Hunter, of King George; Senator Robert F. Leedy, of Luray and Albert O. Boschen, of Richmond.

Delegate Mayo C. Brown, of Lynchburg, chairman of the House Committee on Moral and Social Welfare, presided. He was flanked on either side and just in front of him by the other members of the committee.

In opening the discussion, Chairman Brown declared that it was the intention of the committee to allow both sides to be heard. "This is not a trial of Doctor Peters," he said, "but a hearing on the question whether or not the Prohibition Department is to be abolished."

Delegate Gilpin opened for the proponents of the bill, which, he stated was in no sense an attack on Doctor Peters. "We are not here to hurt the cause of prohibition or abuse the present commissioner, but to abolish the department," he said.

SOFT COAL PRODUTION

Washington, Jan. 26.—Bituminous coal production during the week nding January 17 was 11,655,000 tons, the greatest January week production in three years, the Geological Survey announces in its weekly report.

Up to January 1 the bituminous mines of the country have produced 4,000,000 tons more of coal than they did last year despite some still apparent effects of the nation wide strike in the form of car shortages

VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

Luther C. Till, Cashier for Armour and Co., Dies Today

Luther C. Till, 38 years old, for the past fifteen years cashier for Armour and Company in this city, died shortly before 5 o'clock this morning at his residence, 1018 King street. Death was due to pneumonia. The deceased had been ill for about a week.

Mr. Till besides his wife is survived by two children, Wallace and Elizabeth. The deceased was a native of Orangeburg, S. C.

Funeral services will be held at 7:15 o'clock tonight at his late residence and will be conducted by Rev. Dr. E. V. Regester, pastor of the M. E. Church South and the body will be shipped later in the night to Charleston, S. C., for burial.

NEW STEAMBOAT COMING

The "Severn" Will be Added to the Potomac Flotilla

Capt. Vivian Phillips, of Baltimore, has sold the steamer Severn to Kintz & Healy, of Washington, D. C., who are having her fitted out to be used as a passenger and freight steamer for points on the Potomac in the vicinity of Alexandria. Captain Phillips bought the Severn recently from the Stony Creek Steamboat Company.

It has for many years been a difficult manner to maintain satisfactory steamboat service between Washington, Alexandria and river landings. Forty or fifty different steamboats have been utilized in as many years, but for some reason it has been difficult to make the lines institutions.

When the United States entered the the world war in 1917 several steam boats were running on the river line, but the government commandeered the best boats and the service was maintained by one or two steamers the government could not utiliize. It often happened that freight remained on the wharves for weeks on account of the limited means of transportation.

Merchants engaged in business on the river front will be glad to know that increased transportation facilities will soon be offered.

ARRANGES FOR DISTRICT MEETING

Ernest R. Boyer, grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias in Virginia, returned today from Richmond where he arranged for a district meeting to be held in Richmond February 27. Grand Chancellor Boyer will meet Supreme Chancellor Chas. S. Davis, of Denver, Col., at Norfolk after a meeting of the lodges in that vicinity and will accompany Supreme Chancellor Davis to Richmond.

It is stated that the membership of this order throughout the state is increasing rapidly and Mr. Boyer is having the co-operation of all of the lodges in the state.

GIVEN FOUR MORE DAYS

Paris, Jan. 26.—The Supreme Council today granted the Jugo-Slavs an additional period of four days in which to reply to the allied ultimatum calling for an immediate settlement of the Adriatic problem. The original time limit expired Saturday night.

Unless the Jugo-Slavs accept the Supreme Council's settlement of the dispute between Italy and Serbia, the ultimatum states, the pact of London will be carried out in its entirety.

The importance which the Jugo-Slavs attached to obtaining additional time to formulate their reply was indicated in dispatches from Rome stating that the Jugo-Slav diplomatic representatives in the Italian capital requested the French Ambassador, M. Barrere, to request Premier Nitti, the chief instigator behind the ultimatum to extend the time limit.

In Italian circles the Adriatic question is regarded as settled. Every belief is expressed that the Jugo-Slavs will consent to all the allied terms.

IMPROVEMENTS WILL BE DELAYED

Alexandria Postoffice Will Not be Enlarged in Near Future

TREASURY DEFICITS

Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds Adopt Resolutions Rescinding Former Action.

A few weeks ago our people were enthused at the prospect of the early improvement and enlargement of the postoffice building in this city. But the committee on public buildings and grounds of the House of Representatives have adopted resolutions which virtually place the accomplishment of this most important work in the dim future, or, at any rate, until after the Presidential election this year.

Hon. Walton Moore, now representing the Alexandria District in the House of Representatives, and who has been laboring for the enlargement and improvement of the postoffice building in this city, a few days ago, received the following from Hon. John W. Langley, chairman of the committee on public buildings and grounds:

"Referring to the form letter which was sent to you on December 23, 1919, advising you that the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds would proceed this month to hold hearings with a view to reporting an omnibus public buildings bill at this session, I beg to inclose here with a copy of resoluitons which the Committee has adopted and which will explain the reason for rescinding its former action."

The following are the resolutions referred to:

"Whereas, The House Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds decided on December 19, 1919, to report a general public buildings bill at the present session of the 66th Congress, and,

"Whereas, The estimates of receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year 1921, as recently reported by the Secretary of the Treasury, show that there will be a very large deficit for said fiscal year: Therefore, be it

Resolved, That said decision to report such a bill at this session be, and the same is hereby, rescinded, because of said deficit; and be it further

"Resolved, That the Committee will not report at this session any individual bill which authorizes the appropriation of money; and be it further

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted by the Chairman of this Committee to the Members of the House for their information."

DIES FROM WOUND

Annapolis Phone Girl Who Killed Father to Protect Mother Arrested, Then Released

Annapolis, Mdr., Jan. 26.—Charles Jefferson, whom Ruth Jefferson, his eighteen-year-old daughter, says she shot to prevent him killing her mother, died last night in Annapolis Emergency Hospital.

The girl was arrested, but was released on her own recognizance for appearance at the inquest today which will be held by Coroner W. S. Welch.

Jefferson was forty-eight years old. Besides his widow and daughter, Jefferson leaves nine children. He was a painter. The girl was employed as a telephone operator at the Naval Academy.

U-BOAT CAPTAIN IN ASYLUM

Commander of Ship Which Torpedoed Lusitania Crazed as Result of Deed

Copenhagen, Jan. 26.—The commander of the U-boat that sank the Lusitania has been interned in a madhouse in Germany, according to two former U-boat officers, who are now working as fishermen. They also say that it was the U-22, not the U-20 that torpedoed the big liner. The commander became crazed immediately after learning that the ship had gone down with all on board.

MARRIED THURDSDAY

Miss Eleanor Haislip and Mr. J. M. Tennesson Married

Mrs. K. E. Haislip announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Eleanor Haislip to Mr James Mitchell Tennesson Thursday, January 22, at the rectory of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Rev. Dr. P. P. Phillips, rector, officiating. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs W. W Huntington and the bridegroom had for his best man his brother, Mr Charles E. Tennesson.

The bride was attired in a smart blue tricotine suit with a black picture hat and carried a huge boquet of Bride roses. Only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends witnessed the ceremony.

The bridal party were tendered an informal luncheon at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. W. Huntington, Braddock. After February 1 the couple will be at home to their friends at 511 Prince street.

ALEXANDRIA ASSEMBLY DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT

The dance Saturday night in the auditorium of the Elks' Home, by the Alexandria Assembly was one of the most enjoyable of the series given during the season by this organization. TO TAKE FOUR BRIDES

Crown Prince of Johore Must Take Quartette of Wives as Soon as He Reaches Home

London, Jan. 26.—Without a sweetheart in the world, Crown Prince Ismail, of Johore sailed yesterday for his father's kingdom in the Malay Peninsula to marry four girls within a few weeks, picking three of the brides himself.

The ocean trip will be Ismail's last youthful fling as a free man, but as he is known to be disconsolate over the matrimonial prospects awaiting him at home, it is questionable whether he will enjoy the voyage.

In the course of his eight years' study in England, the Crown Prince, who is only 22, has been converted to a belief that monogamy is highly desirable if a man must marry at all. But revering his royal father, he now waives his own convictions, in deference to the paternal decree. Crown Prince Ismail goes to his quadruple fate dutifully, but with considerable dread.

Arriving home Ismail will have to show truly American speed in wooing for he must have all four matrimonial knots tied before he can sit as regent in place of his father while the latter sails away for his impending tour of Europe.

Jahore, he says, long addicted to polygamy, cannot yet appreciate the virtues of monogamy, but he wishes it could. "I suppose I'll have to do it." said Crown Prince Ismail as he was embarking.

FIFTEEN KILLED IN CRASH

North Bay, Ont., Jan. 26.—Fifteen persons are dead and a large number injured as the result of a collision today between the two sections of the Canadian Pacific express for Vancouver, which occurred about eleven miles east of here.

The rear sleeper of the first section, which was stalled was telescoped by the locomotive of the second section and eight persons were killed outright, seven dying later from their injuries.

TRACK DISEASE GERMS IN HOUSE

Health Officer Foulks Says Many Persons Do It Unwittingly

ALWAYS USE DOOR MAT

Filth Sticks to Shoe Soles and Heat Causes it to Drop on Carpets Spreading Disease Germs

Many people unthinking track disease into their own homes. You would naturally think the common instinct of cleanliness would teach us to wipe our feet before entering the house. The Japanese always remove their shoes before stepping inside their living rooms. Of course it would be rather embarrassing for one of us when visiting a friend, to sit down on his doorstep and take off our shoes, but the idea is right nevertheless. But is this tracked in dirt harmful to health and if so how? Well, let us look into the subject a little and see how it works out. The same man who strongly insists upon things being sanitary; who glibly talks about the danger from disease germs; who would not dream of wiping his hands on the same towel touched by another, even though it be a member of his own family; this same man will walk about the filthy streets and with shoes covered with dirt containing countless thousands of deadly disease germs, will then coolly enter his house, step over the mat in the hall, and proceed to distribute this accumulated dirt and bacteria over the rugs and carpets of the living rooms of his sanitary (?) home! If you think this picture is overdrawn, just look about a little and you will find I have not even done the subject full justice.

Now let us consider what the sole of a shoe really is. Every form of filth sticks to it. The leather is filled with large pores, as well as cuts and cracks caused by use. These soon become filled with dirt in the form of a paste, if the weather is damp. So after entering the house the heat will soon dry the shoes and this dirt then begins to drop out at every step, spreading it over rugs and carpets to later raise as a fine dust, float about the rooms and be inhaled at every breath of the occupant. And this is the way many diseases of the nose, throat and lungs, such as grippe, sore throat and common colds, are distributed during the winter season.

While it would seem almost impossible for us to prevent the various disease-causing bacteria from gaining an entrance to our living rooms, long and careful investigation has convinced me that most of them are carried into the house by means of dust and dirt sticking to the shoes. Then again the winter season brings frequent rain and snow, keeping the streets slopy with dirty slush containing almost every kind of disease-germ known to science. This filth is being constantly tracked into the house by careless grown people and thoughtless children, and distributed over the floors. It is therefore, easy to understand why under such conditions as these, you are far more liable to contract colds, grippe, sore throat and other diseases affecting the air passages, right in your own house, than while walking about the streets in the open air.

Steps should be promptly taken to prevent such germ-laden filth from being carted in on the unwiped, or at least carelessly wiped shoes of the members of the household.

A suitable mat of the best quality—frequently and carefully cleaned—should be placed at the front door, and each member of the family strongly impressed with the fact that it is not put there as an ornament or simply for the benefit of visitors, but to protect the health of those within from the dangers that lurk without! And while we may not be able to follow the safe and sane Oriental custom of removing the shoes before entering the house, we can at least do so afterwards and before the damp shoes begin to dry out. By promptly substituting slippers or light house shoes we will not only lessen the danger mentioned, but rest the tired feet as well.

This should always be done unless one intends to go out again shortly. As a simple matter of foot-health, street shoes should never be worn about the house, as they retard the circulation of the blood. There are many other very important points to this subject, which I will take up in a later article.

CONFERS WITH ENUMERATORS

Albert Fletcher Supervisor of Census For This District Here Today

Albert Fletcher, of Warrenton supervisor of census for the eighth district, today held a conference with the enumerators for this city and several from Fairfax and Alexandria counties in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce.

Practically all of the enumerators assured Mr. Fletcher that they expected to complete their task by the close of the week. Plans were mapped out for taking some of the outlying territory and Mr. Fletcher straightened out some of the problems that confronted the enumerators in obtaining the necessary data to complete their work.

PRUSSIA TO REPAY KAISER

Berlin, Jan. 26.—A measure providing for settlement between Prussian and the Hohenzollerns with regard to the former royal family's movable and immovable holdings will be considered shortly by the Diet.

The draft of the measure, which was worked out by a special commission, provides for monetary payment for the retention of several castles and palaces with the right to dispose of the property without restrictions. As former Emperor William's attorney was freely consulted at the time the holdings were inventoried it is believed the Hohenzollerns will accept settlement if the Diet approves the measure.

Some of the former Emperor's art objects are to be taken over by the state, but he will be given compensation for them.

DIED—GRANEY—On Sunday, January 25, 1920, at 12:55 p. m. Carrie Alice Graney, two years old daughter of William Graney and granddaughter of Laura A. Graney, at her residence, 90 M street, northwest, Washington. Her father brother, and a sister survive her. Her mother died a year ago. Funeral Thursday, January 29, at 10 a. m., from her father's home, and burial in Bethel cemetery, Alexandria.

The loss is bitter the pain severe,
To part with one I loved so dear
The trial is hard, I cannot complain
But trust in God to meet again
The depth of my sorrow I cannot tell
At the loss of one I loved so well
And while you lie in peaceful sleep
The sad memory of you I shall always keep.

Grandmother.

The shock is hard the pain severe
To part with one we loved so dear
God loved too and thought it best to Take her to heavenly rest.

22-1p. Sister.

THE GOLDEN RULE

"Every intelligent business man who wants to see long years of prosperity bless our land and create permanency of employment for labor and for capital should take heed to the dangers which attend the high profits of the hour," says the Manufacturers' Record.

"Business men must realize that the thought which finds expression, "Get all you can, while the getting is good," is dishonest in spirit and destructive in its effect. We know that it is very difficult to resist piling on the prices when people are ready to buy anything and everything, from a silk shirt to a ton of iron, at any price named; we know that the law of supply and demand cannot be set aside by man's whims for any great length of time, and that only through measured production, which spells prosperity, or decreased consumption, which opens the gate to the land of poverty, can the upward trend of prices be permanently halted. Nevertheless, many manufacturers and dealers are doing their utmost to demand unholy profits, and are thus boosting prices beyond all reason and endangering their own and the country's continued prosperity. The sensible men of sound judgment should do their utmost to counteract this condition, even at the expense of smaller profits now.

"The world's demand for many things, the world inflation which was inevitable as an outcome of the war, more than cutting the dollar's purchasing power in half; our unwise income excess profits tax, our permanently high cost of food, all combine to lift prices to a new and higher level which must continue for years.

"Despite these facts we must try to curb these influences rather than stimulate them. We must seek to save the producer of the golden egg instead of ripping wide open the goose, hoping to get a basketful at one sweep. Let the conservative influences of the country, the sober leaders of America's trade and industry, discredit every profiteer who by exorbitant profits robs his customers and his country, and robs himself of his own self respect, whether he be the small or the big business leader, the billionaire corporation executive or the proprietor of the small country sawmill, the millionaire store or the little corner grocer.

"It behooves everyone to realize that unless he can honestly say that he has treated every customer, every employe and every competitor exactly as he would wish they would treat him, he is not honest at heart nor is he following the only rule ever given to mankind which would insure permanent peace and prosperity.

"The golden rule is the only safe foundation on which to build character or business or nations. In proportion to its observance is there peace and prosperity or chaos in life and in business."

COST OF A WALKOUT

It is perhaps impossible to know how much the steel strike has cost the nation. For weeks and months many plants were practically or partially closed. Tens of thousands of men were out of employment for varying periods of time and builders from end to end of the country were compelled to suspend operations until the steel companies could muster enough men to resume production.

The strikers themselves have calculated that their losses in wages amounted to more than $40,000,000 and the steel companies figure that they have lost not less than ten times as much by reason of reduced activity, strike expenses and other circumstances.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch, in commenting upon the above facts says "it is, therefore, not too much to say that the country at large has suffered economically to the extent of half a billion dollars because the steel workers and their employers engaged in a bitter wage duel instead of meeting as men mutually interested and agreeing upon a settlement.

"Nor has either side to this dispute anything positive to show for the sacrifices it has made. The men themselves have lost their fight. They frankly confessed this when weeks after the strike had collapsed their leaders publicly advised them to return to work if the companies would take them; if not, to find jobs somewhere else. And the steel corporations have gained nothing but the vindication of an abstract principle. They opposed collective bargaining in their trade and beat down the demind for it, but they have paid a staggering price for that empty victory.

"Then, too, the public, which was compelled to undergo discomfort, to sustain losses and to "hold the bag," gets nothing whatever. It has gained not even the vindication of a principle."

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY

How many men who are crying for retrenchment in all forms of public expenses have applied their doctrine to their own affairs and are practicing what they preach is the query of the Ohio State Journal. "The whole problem of reconstruction, retrenchment and reorganization would be completed if each individual would apply the doctrine to his own life and expenditures. If all did that the problem would be over with.

"How simple it would be if we tried that plan and how empty is all our preaching when we do not apply it in our own affairs! How foolish to expect others to listen to our arguments when we do not practice them in everyday life! By what rule of reasoning would we expect public servants in office to apply ideas when the voters are disregarding them? Statesmen cannot tell you half as much about your own interests and affairs as you may learn by a mere survey of your own family or individual budget of expenses."

BROUGHT IT ON THEMSELVES.

Hungary has gone into mourning over the terms of peace. So did Austria. So did Germany. Hungary belonged with the free nations, for it had fought Austrian tyranny and established its equal authority. But it had used its power to tyrannize over Rumanians, Croatians and Dalmatians. Hungary, Austria and Germany have been uniformly oppressive of subject races, as their recent associates, Bulgaria and Turkey are to this day. All of these nations have fallen into the pit they digged for others, and they might as well take their ill luck stoically and refrain from foolish displays of black flags and crape and closed theaters. —(Philadelphia Record.

WOMAN PLUNGES TO DEATH

Husband is Leaning From Sill Watching Crowd When Identity of Victim is Phoned to Him

New York, Jan. 26.—Cries and shrieks from the street caused William Gubillier to open a window of his apartment on the eleventh floor of 790 Riverside Drive last night and look out. He saw several persons, among them a patrolman, clustered around the body of a woman that lay on the sidewalk beneath the window.

A moment later his telephone rang and the superintendent of the house informed him that his wife, Marie, 22 years old, was the woman on the sidewalk.

Persons passing the house saw the woman poised for an instant on the sill of a window. She pitched forward and struck the sidewalk close to Patrolman Loughlin. She was killed outright. The police recorded the case as a suicide.

Her husband said he knew of no reason for her to take her life. She had been talking to him a few minutes before he heard the shrieks outside, he said, and then had gone into another room.

PAYS KISS FORFEIT

Visconsin Judge Fines Robert McConnell That Amount for Embracing Married Woman

Racine, Wis., Jan. 26—The price of kissing a married woman was set at $10 Saturday by Judge Charles Burgess in Municipal Court here. Robert McConnell, who paid the fine, said it was worth the money.

Mrs. Lillian Pederson said McConnell kissed her against her will and in the presence of her husband, while they were at a party.

"We were playing a game where forfeits were demanded," Mrs. Pederson said, "and McConnell had to pay a forfeit. The judge told him to kiss me. I tried to escape but couldn't."

Other members of the party testified they doubted if McConnell really paid the forfeit, as they failed to hear the "smack" Mrs. Pederson's husband said he failed to see the kiss, but saw his wife in McConnell's arms.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Detective Edward H. Johnson, head of a detective agency located in Norfolk, was shot and dangerously wounded Friday night during a pistol duel with an unidentified negro, he was endeavoring to arrest.

Henry Abbott, of Danville, has been convicted as an habitual drunkard, at his own request, and has been sent to the State asylum for treatment. According to his statement he and two friends drank thirteen bottles of bay rum in eight hours on Friday.

Carl R. Cassock, special officer of the United States army supply base, was killed and J. D. Teague, an employe at the base, was seriously injured Friday when a motor car in which they were riding was struck by a naval base car at the Virginia Railway and Power Company near Norfolk.

On Saturday the Norfolk Water Department completed a record feat, and all danger of any further water shortage is comparatively at an end. When the connecting span of pipe was laid in the Elizabeth River, Norfolk was finally in a position to tap the Portsmouth supply in Berkley and draw 4,500,000 gallons for consumption. This work was done in twelve days. It is expected that Monday will see the end of the distribution of the drinking water, for the Portsmouth supply will then be available.

Mrs. J. H. Stearman, alone in her home in Norfolk Friday night, was attacked by a negro as she passed from one room to another through a dark hall. Her cries for assistance were heard by a neighbor, who sounded an alarm. The negro tried to gag her with a cloth, but, becoming frightened, struck her a blow on the head, knocking her unconscious. The assailant made his escape.

CANNOT WITDRAW TROOPS

Premier Hara Points to Menace of Bolsheviki in Siberia.

Tokyo, Jan. 26.—The dispatch of Japanese reinforcements to Siberia was unavoidably necessary to assist the Czechs and guard the extensive railroads, Premier Hara declared in replying to interpellations in the lower house of the diet. It was also necessary as a means of assuring the safety of the Japanese garrison.

There was no reason to withdraw the Japanese troops, added the premier, simply because the Americans were being withdrawn, the position of Japan and China in the Far East being far different from that of the United States or Great Britain. Also he pointed out, the future moves of the bolsheviki in Siberia could not be forecast.

Foreign Minister Uchida also said that immediate withdrawal was impossible because some of the Vladivostok Koreans were supporting the Korean independence movement while others were conspiring with the bolsheviki against Japanese interests.

War Minister Tanaka told the house that a thousand Japanese lives had been sacrificed in maintaining order in Siberia.

HUSBAND HELD

Charged With Embezzling $50,000 Belonging to Wife

Chicago, Jan. 26.—Seymour Cohen, an attorney, is held in jail here on the charge of swindling his convent reared wife out of her inheritance. Cohen's bail was placed at $100,000 by Judge A. T. Seaman, of the Criminal Court. Bonds for Mrs. Griesback Clark, Mrs. Cohen's sister-in-law, charged with conspiracy with the attorney, were placed at $25,000.

Mrs. Cohen, according to authorities, shortly after she left St. Mary's of the Woods Convent, Terre Haute, Ind., went to the home of Mrs. Clark. There, she said, she was introduced to her future husband by Mrs. Clark.

The attorney laid siege to her heart and won her promise of marriage, she said. He married her, she charges, for the purpose of obtaining possession of the estate of nearly $50,000 left by her father.

A short time after the wedding ceremony, Mrs. Cohen declared, her husband prevailed on her to draw $3,000 in her name out of the bank and also induced her to give him a key to a safety deposit box containing $42,500 worth of securities.

GERMANS FACE HUNGER

Despite Large Food Stores Some Sections Already Feel Famine

Berlin, Jan. 26.—The Ebert government is facing the most severe test of its career. Upon settlement of the question with which it is now faced probably rests the life of the present regime and the future of Germany.

The two most vital problems are the industrial and food situations.

That drastic measures to meet the situation are contemplated is indicated by the apparently inspired articles appearing in the newspapers. These patently exaggerate the real situation, thus preparing the public for forthcoming measures. It is believed likely a nine-hour work day will be enforced in order to stimulate production.

The food situation throughout the country is rapidly approaching a desperate stage. The government department has been short of food for more than two months. In the face of this fact, experts declare there are still large quantities of food in the country which in an emergency could be confiscated, and they maintain these supplies would be more than ample to meet the deficit. But the man "in the street" knows his meals are being restricted and is unable to reconcile such a condition with the frequently repeated statement that there is plenty of food.

In circles usually well informed the belief prevails that it is only a matter of weeks when Germany will be in the same condition as regards food as Austria right now. But it is emphasized that there would be a great difference between a Germany starved and an Austrian hungry. This condition was summed up by an official today in these words:

"Germany is less easy-going than Austria and the German people could never even stand half the hardships with which Austria has to contend."

POLISH ARMY PRISONERS

Colonel Blunt, With 7 Men and an American Woman in Party

Chita, East Siberia, Jan. 26.—Colonel Blunt, and 7 other American engineers, Miss Ford, Captain Charlotte and several other members of the American Red Cross and an entire Polish army, composed of former prisoners, have been captured by the Bolsheviki at Kiuchinskaya, Siberia according to a garbled telegram received from Joseph H. Ray, former American Consul at Irkutsk.

The dispatch from Mr. Ray was sent from somewhere beyond Nizhniudinsk January 14. It was somewhat garbled in transmission. Kiuchinskaya is on the Trans-Siberian Railroad, 100 miles west of Nizhniudinsk.

The Czechs are fighting a rearguard action with the "Reds" near Krasnoyarsk. Bolshevism is gaining in Chita, Ernest L. Harris, former American Consul at Omsk, is still in Chita.

The British, Japanese and French missions and many members of the American Red Cross have arrived in Harbin.

The only officer in the American army named Blunt is Major (Captain of cavalry) Wilfrid M. Blunt, who, according to the latest available army directory was stationed at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia.

A Bolshevik wireless communication received in London January 18 announced the capture by the Bolshevik forces in the Krasnoyarsk region of seventeen columns of Polish Legionaries, together with sixteen guns and 20,000 rifles.

A dispatch from "The London Daily Mail's" Harbin correspondent received in London January 20, said there was an unconfirmed report in Harbin that the Bolsheviki had destroyed a Polish division near Krasnoyarsk.

TO FIGHT FOR CIVIL RIGHTS

New Body Will Oppose in Courts Violation of Freedom of Speech

New York, Jan. 26.—The formation of a new organization to be known as the American Civil Liberties Union, "to champion in the highest courts the civil liberty rights of persons and organizations," was announced here last night by Prof. Harry F. Ward, of the Union Theological Seminary, who will head the union. Others who will serve on the executive committee will be Helen Phelps Stokes, treasurer; Albert De Silver and Roger N. Baldwin. Walter Nelles is to be chief counsel.

On the national committee of the new organization are James N. Maurer, president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Union Labor; Duncan McDonald, president of the Illinois State Federation of Labor; Helen Keller, Morris Hillquit, Jane Addams, Prof. Robert Morse Lovett and John Sayre.

The union according to Prof. Ward, will fight in the courts all attempts to violate the right of free speech, free press and peaceful assemblage. He added that it was proposed to keep "industrial struggles in conformity with the constitution of the United States and of the several States of the Union."

SUPPORTS DUTCH STAND

The "Tempo" of Rome Quotes Orlando to Show "Colossal Absurdity" of Entente's Demand

Rome, Jan. 26.—The comments of the press generally are favorable to Holland's refusal to grant the extradition of the former German Emperor. The "Tempo" says that this declination is satisfactory and in accordance with elementary and juridical principles.

When the extradition of the former Emperor was proposed in the Supreme Council, then composed only of Premier Clemenceau, Premier Lloyd George, President Wilson and Premier Orlando, the paper points out, Signor Orlando delievered a speech showing, in his opinion, the colossal absurdity of the demand.

He characterized the demand as unprecedented in the history of the world and in conflict with the principles of the Entente, which proclaimed that it had been fighting for the triumph of right and justice.

RUSH TO DIAMOND FIELD

South Africans See Riches in Desert Section of Bechuanaland

Johannesburg, South Africa, Jan. 25.—Tlaring, a waterless, treeless and virtually gameless desert near Taungs in Bechuanaland, promises to be the scene of the biggest diamond claim-staking rush in South African history. It is understood that Tlaring will be proclaimed open for diamond digging about March 20.

Amazing stories are afloat concerning the wonderful richness of the district, and prospective diggers from the cape to the Zambesi and Mozambique and even the Congo are preparing to try their luck in the new field. Despite warnings of possible failure, men are abandoning good jobs in various parts of the country in order to be free to stake out claims when the proclamation is issued. Hundreds of women also are arranging to go to the new diggings.

The government is preparing to cope with the anticipated rush to Tlaring, and a township to receive the new community is being laid out.

EBERT AND NOSKET LOSE SUIT

President and Minister Objected to Being Caricatured as Animals

Berlin, Jan. 26.—President Ebert and Gustav Noske, Minister of Defense, Saturday lost their suit against the editor of the "Satyr" a humorous weekly which had cortooned the members of the Cabinet in the shape of different animals, labelling the collection, "Our Menagerie" The President and the Minister of Defense were the only members of the government to bring suit.

The defendant had several Berlin editors and authors subpoenaed as witneses, among them being Count von Reventlow of the "Tages-Zeitung," and George Bernhard of the "Vossische Zeitung." He charged that President Ebert's mode of living was far from "Spartanlike" in its simplicity, and that the President was not showing the measure of reserve to be expected of a German executive in the present situation.

Both Herr Ebert and Herr Noske the defendant testified had in fact permitted themselves to be photographed in bathing trunks and had suggested the cartoon, while editors called upon to give evidence declared they failed to discover anything particularly objectionable in the caricatures.

The court gave its decision in favor of the defendant editor after declaring "picayunishness out of place in modern Germany in which freedom is supposed to reign."

President Ebert was cartooned as a will board Herr Noske as an ape, and Mathias Erzberger, the Finance Minister, as a chameleon.

The "THOROBRED"

7-passenger Touring Car

THE trend of automobile engineering points to the 8-cylinder car. And good buying judgment points to Oldsmobile.

We aimed higher than simply pioneering the "eight." We aimed to produce one of moderate price and low maintenance costs, —that had the flexibility, smoothness and abundance of power inherent in the 8-cylinder car.

—that cost as little to buy and operate as the majority of "sixes" and many "fours."

—that would be smartly distinctive, yet characteristically Oldsmobile.

Our aim is attained in the "THORO the only popular priced "eight" mechanical excellence is combined with riding comfort and up-to-the-minute body lines. Oldsmobiles have been the history-makers of motordom; the "THOROBRED" is well worthy to perpetuate the name.

CASE OF THE KAISER

Officials Say Britain Must Invade Holland to Force Surrender

Washington, Jan. 26.—Unless Great Britain actually invades Holland and takes the former Kaiser by force, William of Hohenzollern will never be brought to trial, in the opinion of officials and diplomats here.

These officials discount the report that the Kaiser will be tried in his absence for the reason that he has already been tried and found guilty by all of the allied nations. It is regarded here as conclusive that Holland has so rebuffed the allies that diplomacy undertaken to effect the surrender of the Kaiser is no longer feasible.

In addition it is pointed out here that the allies, even before the dispatch of their note demanding the Kaiser, knew that Holland in all its history had never surrendered a political prisoner. Therefore, the diplomatic opinion here is that Lloyd George simply pressed for the surrender of the former monarch in order to square himself with the British electorate and with the treaty which he himself framed. He will now be in a position to say that he tried by every available method to bring about the surrender of the ore time German monarch, and that Holland has practically declared that the only way to get him out is for Germany to make the request, but even under the laws and traditions of the Netherlands such a surrender would only be granted on condition that the extradited person be not tried for a political offense.

MAY ABANDON POWHATAN

Disabled Transport Helpless And Adrift in Gale

Boston, Jan. 26.—A wireless message intercepted here late yesterday from the army transport Powhatan which has been disabled off the coast since last Sunday, said the water was gaining slowly and that it might be necessary to take off all the crew except a few volunteers. Relief was requested as soon as possible.

The message, which was addressed to United States army officers at Halifax, N. S., said that the United States Coast Guard cutters Gresham and Acushnet and the Canadian Government steamer Lady Laurier were standing by and that the United States Coast Guard cutter Ossipee was near. In stating that he might remove the crew Captain Randall said he would "take no chances."

An earlier message from the Gresham intercepted here, reported the Powhatan as drifting helplessly before an east-northeast gale with the steamers that were standing by unable to put tow lines aboard. The position at noon was given as about 25 miles southeast of Halifax.

RAIL STRIKE AT END

Volunteers Man Trains in Italy—Many Schedules Back to Normal

Rome, Jan. 26.—Italy's nationwide strike of railway workers is believed near its end.

The situation has "improved everywhere," the government's official bulletin says.

Signs that the strikers are wavering have increased in the last 24 hours. The great number of volunteer workers, the failure to render the strike entirely effective and the government's firm stand of opposition were believed to have upset the strikers completely.

Even the general strike committee was reported no longer in accord.

Hundreds of supernumeraries have returned to work, officials of the ministry of transportation say. Scores of retired firemen and engineers have been pressed into service. The number of trains in operation especially freight carriers, has increased greatly, the government bulletin says, while the Pisa-Bologna division, which was the worst affected, shows signs of improvement.

Sabotage continues to be reported from many districts. Stones were hurled through car windows and revolvers fired at many trains in the northern districts. Violence was especially pronounced near Rimini. Soldiers patrolling the tracks near Savona found several sticks of dynamite. Two strikers have been sentenced to three years each in prison for threatening an engineer.

FIRE ON STRIKERS

Troops Kill One and Wound Others After Warning Rioters in Bombay

Disquieting news from the mill area in the Bombay India presidency, where 200,000 workers went on strike early this month, reports the firing by the military on a crowd of strikers, causing a number of casualties, including one killed.

During the morning, the advices state, the crowds in the district began holding up street cars and other vehicles and compelling the passengers to alight. Later the strikers became more riotous and the military, after giving warning, it was declared, were compelled to fire It is stated that one person was killed and some wounded.

WALE'S LOVE LETTERS

Prince Still Continues to Receive Bushels of Correspondence Daily From U. S. Women.

London, Jan. 26.—The Prince of Wales is enjoying an epistolary pursuit by American girls.

And it may be stated on the authority of his secretary that both the secretary and the Prince have a gay time daily going through the mail bag.

Since his return the Prince's letter pouch has contained something like 45,000 letters weekly, covering every conceivable subject. The "cream" of these is handed him for persual and from the high voltage love missives he gains vast amusement, according to his secretary. Most of these are from girls who got a passing glimpse at "His Royal Highness" either at New York or Washington. Scores of others send snapshots taken of him during his visit over there. Some girls send photographs of themselves by way of good measure.

"All the really serious letters, the Prince answers personally," his secretary said today. "His Royal Highness is really not at all displeased at the volume of his mail from the United States. He has kept many of the snapshots taken and some of the letters, particularly those from prominent persons indicate they were sent with the future good relationship of Great Britain and America at heart. These for the most part, tell him of the good effects his journey had upon public opinion in the United States."

At the Pilgrim's Club recently, some quip was passing at the Prince anent his American correspondence. He laughingly admitted it had assumed quite some proportions but added, it is not all from the fair sex."

Since his return the Prince has kept in close touch with American activities and has become a consummate reader of American newspapers.

BEER OR NO MUSIC

Russian Composer Gives St. Louis Conditions of Return Visit

St. Louis, Jan. 25.—When art and alcohol join hands the promotion of art is likely to be a dangerous thing in these dry times, but if Hergei Rachmaninoff, the distinguished Russian composer pianist, is still thirsty when he returns to St. Louis for his concert engagement on February 13 the beer which his temperament requires will be forthcoming. Music need not pine for lack of moisture.

During his recent visit the pianist said: "I'll pay anything you want anywhere you like, but on one condition: I must have a dozen bottles of genuine beer."

Inquiry developed at once that the only safe way to irrigate the field of music would consist in having somebody who had beer invite Rachmaninoff to his home and serve him with the beer there.

The hunt went on unsuccessfully for weeks, coming ultimately to August A. Busch, the brewer.

"You can say for me that if it isn't a penitentiary offense, I'll be glad to accommodate Mr. Rachmaninoff," said Busch. "I'll do anything for the uplift of art that won't get me into trouble with the Federal authorities. Be sure and tell Mr. Rachmaninoff not to go to the brewery, however. Have him come to my home. A brewer is the last place in the world to look for beer these days."

SAYS FAMILY BROKE HIM

Man Ascribes Downfall to High Living.

San Jose, Cal., Jan. 26.—William J. Moffitt, arrested here on a warrant from New York charging grand larceny, said yesterday he would not resist extradition. The formerly wealthy speculator explained high living on the part of his family caused his financial downfall.

"I bought great tracts of land in New York," he said, "for one-third cash, giving a mortgage for the other two-thirds. This land was sold free of encumbrances. I intended to pay the mortgage with cash from these sales

"But my family lived so high I could not meet the mortgages. An attorney foreclosed and buyers demanded their money back. I could not pay, so I came West".

The railroads are indispensable to our whole economic life, and railway securities are at the very heart of most investments, large and small, public and private, by individuals and by institutions.
WOODROW WILSON

THE war could not have been won without railroads. Transport—by rail and sea—is an indispensable arm of national defence.

Carrying capacity from the wheat fields and the mines and the steel mills to the front lines in France, was the measure of our power in war.

And it is the measure of our power in peace.

Industrial expansion—increasing national prosperity—greater world trade—are vitally dependent on railroad growth.

The limit to the productive power of this country is the limit set by railroad capacity to haul the products of our industry.

The amount of freight carried on American rails doubled from 1897 to 1905—since that year it has doubled again.

It will double still again.

To haul this rapidly growing traffic the country must have more railroads—more cars and engines—more tracks and terminals.

Sound national legislation, broad-visioned public regulation will encourage the expansion of railroads, without which the nation cannot grow.

This advertisement is published by the Association of Railway Executives

CLERKS FORMING UNIONS

President Steward on Trip to Enroll Government Employes

Government employes in Southern cities are rapidly organizing local unions and affiliating with the National Federation of Federal Employes, according to word which has reached Washington headquarters of the clerks' big union. Luther C. Steward, president of the federation left yesterday for Charleston, S. C. to speak at a mass meeting of Federal workers in that city tonight.

The federation is making plans to enroll every Federal employe in Southern cities in its organization. From Charleston, President Steward will go to Atlanta and then to Savannah to appear before Federal employes' meetings.

Federal employes embraced in the itinerary are in such services as immigration, customs, weather bureau, custodians and janitors, navy yards, zone supply offices of the War Department, penitentiary employes, internal revenue, lighthouse and coast guards and other Federal service common to ports and commercial centers.

CASE OF THE KAISER

Allies Will Insist he be Tried Despite Dutch Objections

The Hague, Jan. 24.—The Dutch reply to the allied note demanding the extradition of the former Kaiser is a courteous but flat denial, it was learned here yesterday.

London, Jan. 24.—Holland's refusal to permit extradition of the former Kaiser will not be acceptable to the allies, it was learned yesterday from sources close to Lord Birkenhead, lord chancellor, and Sir Gordon Hewart, attorney general.

The refusal probably will be followed by a long series of secret legal arguments.

It is intimated that legal representatives of the allies are prepared to answer Holland's principal objections, which are said to be:

First—The fact that America is not a party to the request.

Second—The rights of political refugees.

Third—Holland's unamenability to the treaty provisions because she was not a party to the treaty.

Fourth—The rights of a neutral nation.

Inasmuch as the arguments that have been advanced by the allies to Holland are identical with the evidence that will be presented at the trial, if it is held, it is impossible to make them public.

Such a trial would give the entente an opportunity to divulge officially the incriminating evidence which it has taken months to collect.

FOUR MEN BREAK JAIL

Entice Keeper Into Cell, Take Keys, Lock Him in and Flee

Prisoners in the county jail at Marlboro, Md., overpowered their keeper last night about 6 o'clock and succeeded in effecting a wholesale jail delivery.

The men are John Coffer, George Williams, Norman Butler and James Hansen. Coffer was being held over to the April court on a charge of robbery on the public highway, the others on larceny charges.

Jailer Perry had given his four prisoners their supper and had locked them up for the night, when Hansen called him to the grating of the cell door.

"Gimme another loaf of bread," he growled.

Perry obligingly went for the bread, and, returning opened the cell door to hand it to Hansen.

As he opened the door Hansen grabbed him, dragging him into the cell, where the other three prisoners relieved him of the jail keys. The cell door was then locked on him and the four escaped through the front door of the jail.

Shortly after their escape Perry succeeded in attracting the attention of several passers-by and sounded the alarm. Immediately posses started in search of the fugitives, but it is thought that they have made their way to the marshes near the town, were it would be almost impossible to trace them over the ice and sleet.

TO KEEP UP THE FIGHT

Anti-Saloon League Counsel Points to Campaigns Being Waged by "Wets" in States

Washington, Jan. 26.—Calling on friends of prohibition to get busy rather than quit, Wayne B. Wheeler general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League of America, in a statement tonight charged that 'wet' organizations and some wet officials are encouraging defiance to national prohibition in Rhode Island, Massachusetts New York, New Jersey, Wisconsin and several other states."

"They" said Dr. Wheeler, referring to these organizations and officials "have enacted, or attempted to enact laws to permit certain liquors which the Federal government prohibits. In their campaign with 'wet' propaganda they are inflaming the lawless to defy the Federal prohibition act.

"The court attacks on national prohibition, the threat of the liquor organizations to elect a 'wet' Congress to weaken the national prohibition code and re-submit the Eighteenth Amendment and to elect 'wet' legislators to carry out their program is a sufficient challenge to the friends of prohibition to get busy rather than quit."

MURDER OF AGED COUPLE

Tom Phillips, Estranged From Wife Arrested as Funeral Cortege Starts for Cemetery

Knoxville, Jan. 26.—Tom Phillips, is incarcerated in the Knox county jail, accused of the murder of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Mills, parents of Mrs. Phillips. In a little cemetery at Lenoir City two new mounds mark the last resting place of the aged couple, who met death in such a tragic manner there Friday night, when they were ambushed and shot to death while en route home from church. It was rumored that a posse was en route from Lenoir City to lynch Phillips.

Phillips denies he fired the fatal shots, and claims to have known nothing of the crime until Saturday morning, when informed by his father.

Phillips surrenderd to the sheriff's forces Saturday afternoon shortly before 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Phillips is dazed and almost speechless as a result of the tragic happenings of Friday night. She was returning home with her father and mother when the shooting occurred, and, according to the police claims to have positive identified her husband as the assailant.

Blaming Mr. and Mrs. Mills for the estrangement from his wife Mrs. Phillips, who had been living with her parents several months previous to the shooting, Phillips is said to have made numerous threats both against his mother in law father in law and wife.

Mrs. Phillips and her two small children, Mr. and Mrs. Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hickey were returning from a revival service at the First Baptist Church of Lenoir City when the party was confronted near the center of town by a man bearing a shotgun.

Mrs. Phillips says she believes she recognized her husband, and, fearing for her safety because of threats previopsly made, she fled straight up the street and past the man rounding the corner of a house which stood on the corner. The assailant first fired at Mr. Mills, who had a baby child of Phillips in his arms when he fell, according to Mr. Hickey.

The first shot tore through Mr Mills' hat without harming him. The second shot was fired at point-blank range, while not more than two feet distant, it is said. The charge enetred Mr. Mills' stomach just above the right hip. The gun wad was also found in the wound when the body was examined.

Phillips and his wife have been estranged since last summer, when Mills shot Phillips as the result of a quarrel over division of a wheat crop, and since then Mrs. Phillips has been residing with her parents.

GERMANS BEGIN TO QUIT

Enthusiastic Popular Demonstration Marks Evacuation of Danzig

Berlin, Jan. 26.—German troops began evacuation on Upper Silesia yesterday in accordance with the terms of the peace treaty, which requires that the movement begins within 15 days after its ratification.

The first Allied troops are expected to reach Oppeln on January 30. Evacuation will be accomplished by zones, each of which will remain under a provisional military administration under the Interallied Commission.

The treaty provides for the occupation of Upper Silesia by a total of 18,000 Allied troops. English, French and Italian troops will be used.

German preparations for the evacuation of Danzig, which is to become a free city under the terms of the treaty of Versailles, had as one feature a final parade of the German troops yesterday morning. A Danzig message says the parade was held amidst an enthusiastic popular demonstration, with the German colors on the flagstaffs of various buildings at half mast.

The occupation of the city by the Allies, set for February 8, is likely to be delayed several days, according to the Danzig advices.

Copenhagen, Jan. 26.—The German military and civil authorities evacuated the town of Flensburg, Schleswig. Saturday, in accordance with the treaty terms providing for the taking of the plebiscite, a message from Flensburg announces. The German residents spared no pains in giving the troops a patriotic send off. Yesterday a Danish demonstration occurred there.

The visit of the international commission, which is expected Monday, is awaited with intense excitement by the Flensburg people, the dispatch adds.

STERN HAND FOR ERIN

Britain Offers 10,000 Pounds Reward For Police Murderers.

London, Jan. 26.—Great Britain, determined to stamp out the reign of terror in Ireland, has decided upon a sterner and more vigorous policy than ever before to restore order. As a last resort it is possible that the Government will declare the whole island under martial law and proceed accordingly.

The first move in the new policy developed yesterday with a Government proclamation offering one of the largest rewards for criminals in its history—10,000 pounds—for information leading to the conviction of the man or men guilty of murdering any of the 14 policemen killed during July in Ireland. The reward carries the additional offer of a pardon to any one implicated in the killing, but not actually the murderer himself, who will turn state's evidence.

Meantime the Government is understood to have given Viscount French, Lord Lieutenant, carte blanche in suppressing disorders in Ireland, being left in his discretion as to what means he shall utilize to the desired end.

The recent murder of Deputy Police Commissioner Redmond is believed to have been the event which stirred the Government to action and forced the decision to restore order. The existence of a small band of extremists discovered by the Government Secret Service, is not confirmed. Its purpose is to institute terrorism by organized attempts at assassination of Government officials, and its continued operation played a part in the Government's decision to give French blanket authority. Viscount French himself has expressed complete confidence in his ability to get the results aimed at.

Government officials consider the present a favorable moment to launch the new policy owing to the revulsion of public feeling at the murder of Commissioner Redmond. Some quarters intimate that the near future will see more troops sent into Ireland.

URGE FRUGAL LIVING

Economy Will Help to Solve After War Problems, Say Gibbons and O'Connell

Letters from Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, and Cardinal O'Connell, of Boston, urging the people of the United States not to dissipate through extravagant living the prosperity that the country is enjoying, were made public here tonight by the Savings Division of the Treasury.

Cardinal Gibbons said:

"Every American citizen should realize that the problems arising from the war are individual problems and can best be solved by careful, frugal living and a curtailing of unnecessary expenses. The prosperity that has come to us is not ours to be spent lavishly and without regard to consequences, but is to be increased by consistent savings, thoughtful investment and wise use. In no other way can we seize upon the opportunity that is presented to us, and thus while increasing our own resources continue to play the good samaritan to the suffering people in Europe."

The Treasury made public this excerpt from Cardinal O'Connell's letter:

"I shall be very glad to cooperate in so far as lies within my power with the Savings Division of the Treasury Department, in checking the tendency toward extravagance and financial carelessness and in encouraging consistent savings."

THEATRES

GRAND TODAY

Enid Bennett, the charming Australian "find" of Thomas H. Ince, who recently created a furore in her Paramount debut in "The Keys of the Righteous," will appear again on Monday at the Grand Theatre in "Naughty Naughty." This is not, as the name would indicate, a travesty on light opera, but a whimsically funny, true-to-life story of a girl in a small midwestern town who struggles to bring to the narrow-minded natives, a realization of their loss in refusing to admit the newer forms of amusement. Incidentally her old-time sweetheart, editor of the local news sheet, is one of the narrowest of all—and it is to his regeneration especially that she turns her attention—with what success will be seen at the Grand tonight. Other numbers on the specially attractive program will be chapter 11 of "Smashing Barriers."

CLEMENCEAU MAY GET AUTO

France Urged to Give Ex-Premier Car He Used in War

Paris, Jan. 26.—The newspaper "Intransigeant" yesterday proposed that retiring Premier Clemenceau be presented with the automobile that he used during his administration rather than with a country house, as had been proposed in other quarters.

The newspaper points out that while M. Clemenceau disliked automobiles before the war, he had made great use of them during the war and had grown to like them immensely.

It is recalled that M. Clemenceau was responsible for the presentation by the government to France's marshals and leading generals of the automobiles that they used during the war. He also sponsored the proposal to give the French poilus their helmets.

Pepto-Mangan Makes Rich Red Blood

Helps Restore Thin, Run-Down Men and Women to Vigorous, Full-Blooded Health

Recommended by Physicians

Sold in Liquid or Tablet Form—The Name "Gude's" the Guide to the Genuine

It is a true saying that your health is only as good as your blood. Good rich blood manifests itself in a healthy natural complexion; clear, keen eyes; tireless energy and enthusiasm; and an abundant supply of reserve strength.

And just as positively does poor thin blood directly influence the entire system. Pale, sallow complexions; dull eyes; a listless step; languidness; tiredness; worn-out feeling; general dejectedness and unhappiness—all are positive signs that body is not receiving its proper nourishment through the blood.

Pepto-Mangan helps restore vigorous health, because it contains the very elements so much needed by the blood to enable it to perform its functions and supply the body with nourishment, energy, and strength.

For your convenience, Pepto-Mangan is prepared in tablet as well as liquid form. Both possess exactly the same medicinal value.

There is but one genuine Pepto-Mangan, and that is "Gude's" If the name "Gude's" is not on the package it is not Pepto-Mangan.
